Step 5

Step 1

I deleted my previous free GCP e-mail accounts.

I also signed out of all my remaining google e-mail accounts — I believe this is essential.

So I can't receive any gmail e-mails at this stage, from any of my devices.

Step 3 Use another account

Step 4

Create Account

For myself.

Get a new Gmail instead.

I choose to create my own.

As a Recovery Mail, I add my existing Gmail, that I have a Google Developer Account for. Although I signed -out, I still give this gmail.

Privacy and Terms

To create a Google Account, you'll need to agree to the Terms of Service below.

In addition, when you create an account, we process your information as described in our Privacy Policy, including these key points:

Data we process when you use Google

- When you set up a Google Account, we store information you give us like your name, email address, and telephone number.
- When you use Google services to do things like write a message in Gmail or comment on a YouTube video, we store the information you create.
- When you search for a restaurant on Google Maps or watch a video on YouTube, for example, we process information about that activity – including information like the video you watched, device IDs, IP addresses, cookie data, and location.
- We also process the kinds of information described above when you use apps or sites that use Google services like ads, Analytics, and the YouTube video player.

Why we process it

We process this data for the purposes described in our policy, including to:

- Help our services deliver more useful, customized content such as more relevant search results;
- Improve the quality of our services and develop new

Step 5

At this stage I sign in to my signed-out google accounts.

This is how Google trusts me, because somehow Google knows anything and everything about me!

But, I have to be signed on.

That is, just before I proceed with the Account Information,

I open a new tab, or I open a new chrome browser, I go to my GMAILS screens and sign back on to my gmails.

After I sign in to my gmails, or maybe I should say, after I sign in to my google accounts, I will fill in the Account Information.

In the verification screen above, it says that a confirmation email will be sent within 48 hours. I do not remember how long it took, but definitely it arrived the same day:

This is it!

I wish you Good Health always, and Luck and Success in your work
